

Michael A. Mauro

For nearly a decade, Michael Mauro has served as Auditor for Polk County, the largest of Iowa's 99 counties. Prior to his election as Auditor, he worked in the office – climbing his way up the ladder and eventually being elected Auditor. During his time in office, he has focused on streamlining services and making the office more user-friendly for the residents of Polk County. He believes in making government work for its citizens and using technology to simplify services, cut costs, and eliminate red tape for people seeking assistance from his office. He was one of the first Auditor's in the nation to make voter registration and absentee ballot request forms available online.

As Polk County Auditor, Michael is a member of the following:

- I-VOTERS Standards Committee
- HAVA State Plan Advisory Committee
- Voting Equipment Users Group
- Polk County Deferred Compensation Board

Michael and his wife, Dorothy Fischer, have three sons, Steve (31), Nick (29), and Michael (14). Michael and Dorothy also have three grandchildren. He is a graduate of Drake University and has held a Real Estate Brokers License for over 30 years.
